ALC Pressure Resented by Commissioner

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A member of the Arkansas Highway Commission said today that if the Legislature's failure to recommit a highway budget was a pressure move, "then we resent the action."

The council adjourned seven weeks of budget hearings yesterday without taking action on Highway Department requests.

In 1957, the Legislature failed to act on the highway appropriation in regular session and this necessitated a special session.

Finds Cache of Bonds Worth $15 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A state official, checking on why California was billed $26 for a safe deposit box, stumbled on a cache of prewar Japanese bonds he valued at $15 million today.

They had been forgotten, although apparently gathering interest, for 17 years since being seized when Japanese assets in the United States were frozen shortly before World War II.

William A. Burkett, the state's superintendent of banks, made his find public Thursday when he asked Superior Court to determine who owns the bonds. He said he asked "What's in it?" and opened the box after getting the bill from the American Trust Co. Owners were not listed on the bonds, which were seized in the lobby of the Yokohama Specie Bank's San Francisco branch July 29, 1941—four days after all Japanese assets in this country were frozen as war neared.

The bonds wound up in the custody of the state when California liquidated enemy banks after Pearl Harbor. The state had been paying safe deposit box rental since.

Burkett says he is sure the bonds "are worth at least $15 million dollars in American dollars, as of today."

Facing the court is the problem of what to do with them. Do they go to the alien property custodian in Washington, D.C.? Does the State of California own them? Do they go to their original owner, whoever he may be? Settling that will undoubtedly take a lot of legal action.

A&P Common Stock May Go on Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Stockholders of Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. today voted in favor of a plan which eventually will put the company's new common stock on the New York Stock Exchange.

First preferred stockholders voted 224,584 shares in favor of the plan and 2,802 shares against. All the common shares totaling 1,150,000 were voted in favor of the plan.

The proposal approved earlier by directors eliminates preferred and nonvoting stock and substitutes a single class of voting common.

The first public stockholders meeting in the company's 89-year history got underway with about 150 shareholders present.

The meeting was devoted to the lead to listing of part of the grocery chain's stock on the New York Stock Exchange. Previously the nonvoting stock was traded on the American Stock Exchange.

The proposal does not call for any new financing or the public sale of any stock.

Court Threat to Oust Hoffa Faces Union

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Teamsters' threat to oust Hoffa today in the face of a federal court threat to oust Hoffa as their president unless they obey court orders to clean house.

The Executive Board of the huge union voted to appeal U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts' ruling that the Teamsters must heed reform recommendations made by court-appointed monitors.

Hoffa, militant leader of 1½ million Teamsters, didn't seem worried by the court's vigorously worded opinion.

"Well, it just means another fight," he said cheerfully. "We will appeal all the way. We've done nothing contrary to good unionism."

Hoffa said the union will cancel plans for a convention in Chicago next March if necessary. The court forbade a convention that soon on the ground the union has not yet cleaned house or prepared and file membership through derogatory processes.

Hoffa had called the convention in an attempt to have himself re-elected and bring an end to the moratorium.

The union's lawyers will go to Washington to seek an order staying Letts' ruling.

Two of the three Teamsters monitors complained Hoffa was ignoring their cleanup orders.

Good Gain in Sales This Week

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Weekly sales in department stores in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week averaged 9 per cent above the similar week in 1957.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis said a lull in recent bad weather helped notch higher sales as the Christmas season approached.

Louisville had a 12 per cent sales gain, a figure matched by seven smaller district cities.

St. Louis sales rose 8 per cent, Memphis sales 9 per cent, and Little Rock sales 6 per cent.

Sales for the month period ended last week were 2 per cent above the like month last year, the bank said.

Three Registrars Resign After 'Rights' Hearing

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—At least three Alabama voter registrars have resigned after the federal Civil Rights Commission hearing on Negro voting complaints here this week.

Two others under a federal court order to appear before a subcommittee of the commission next Friday said they plan to honor their subpoenas.

Dr. John A. Hannah, commission chairman, said he and Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida will serve as the subcommittee for the second hearings.

State Circuit Judge George Wallace of Clayton, Ala., who refused to respond to a subpoena, hasn't said whether he will honor the federal court order.

He was subpoenaed along with five registrars who refused to testify.

The governor's office disclosed today that R. E. Cook, chairman of the Board of Registrars in Wilcox County, has sent in his resignation.

Macon County Registrars E. P. Livingston and Grady Rogers resigned on grounds they were being intimidated.

Two members of the Barbour County Board, W. A. Stokes Sr. and J. W. Spencer, said they expect to be at the commission session next Friday.

The fifth registrar subpoenaed, M. T. Evans of Bullock County, was unavailable for comment.

Although they have resigned, the two Macon County registrars said they plan to appear at the second meeting of the commission next week.

But they said "We aren't registrars any more and no records are in our possession." What effect this may have on the investigation had not been determined.

Refusal to obey the subpoenas could bring contempt citations and possible penalties of imprisonment or fines. This would be at the court's decision.

A promise of "vigorous opposition" to the court orders came from Alabama Atty. Gen. John Patterson, who will take office as governor next month.

The 37-year-old official, upon whose advice the registrars kept silent at the hearing, said he was considering intervention in the form of a motion to set aside the orders issued by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr.

Served with the orders, in addition to Livingston and Rogers, were Circuit Judge George C. Wallace of Clayton, Ala., Registrars J. W. Spencer and W. A. Stokes of Barbour County, and M. P. Evans of Bullock County.

Wallace, who would only say he was conferring with his attorney about the federal order, refused even to appear at the first hearing. As a state judge, he said, he is immune from federal investigations.

During the month of January a Special Security representative will be at the Court Room of Hope City Hall at 9 a. m. on each Thursday in the month. If you have SS problems, see him on one of the days listed.

The choir of First Christian Church will lead a special program at the church Sunday at 2 p. m. instead of 4 p. m. as originally announced.

Appointments of George W. Lewis, 208 S. Pine, Hope, as registered representative of Waddell & Reed, Inc., national distributor of United Funds, Inc., was announced this week.

Moscow Warns West in Trying to Force Meet

By ANGELO NATALE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union put in another bid Thursday night for a summit meeting on causes of international tension. It included the Berlin situation but ruled out discussion of German reunification.

The statement from the official news agency Tass also warned that any Western use of force to maintain access to Berlin would be met by Soviet forces and would touch off a nuclear war.

Some Western officials have proposed that Berlin be discussed only in connection with the entire German unification problem. Tass renewed the Kremlin stand against negotiating on reunification and also rejected again the Western demand for all-German free elections.

The Soviet Union repeated, however, its readiness to talk about a World War II peace treaty for Germany. Tass added that the Soviet Union stands for a meeting of the hands of state on the condition that East and West are equally represented, with the aim of "discussing ripened questions of consequence (toward) easing international tension."

The Communists contend that German unification should be negotiated by the East and West German governments, meeting as equals.

Preliminary negotiations for a summit conference broke down last June when the Kremlin published secret minutes of meetings in Moscow. The West was insisting on searching talks at a lower level to insure likelihood of agreement before the heads of governments gathered. The Soviet Union wanted to get the government chiefs to do the actual talking.

The West also had insisted on restricting any summit conference to the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union, with possibly a few neutrals. It had rejected Soviet efforts to include such small Communist nations as Poland and Czechoslovakia for voting equality.

The statement reiterated that the Soviet Union will transfer its occupation powers to the East Germans in six months regardless of whether the West accepts Premier Khrushchev's proposal to make west Berlin an unarmored free city.

Chief of these powers is control of the Western Allies' supply routes to their garrisons in West Berlin. To talk of Allied counter-attack against any new Communist blockade, Tass asked: "Is it not clear that any attempt to break into Berlin by force would mean an attack on the (A Communist) German Democratic Republic and also its Warsaw Pact allies?"

(The Warsaw Pact is the military alliance of the Soviet Union and its East European bloc.)

In Washington, State Department officials said the Tass statement looked like a propaganda broadside. They said again that the United States will not be deterred by threats from defending its rights in Berlin.

The two turbines will be the last of six turbine-generator units planned for the dam. Army Engineers said a contract probably will be awarded in about a month for delivery by Jan. 1, 1961.

Dog Medical Hero Is Now Missing

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A canine hero of the medical fraternity is missing.

Big Ben, designated as research dog hero of 1956 by the National Society for Medical Research, was due to receive a special collar with a silver plaque, appropriately inscribed.

The mixed-breed, 3-year-old dog, retired by the Tulane University medical school, disappeared from the home of his caretakers, the Arnold York family, across the Mississippi River from New Orleans.

His medical record at Tulane included:

1. Living proof of the feasibility of treatment of deadly brain cancers.

2. Twice the subject of special experiments in the battle against cancer in human limbs and organs.

3. Service as a blood donor for other animals.

4. An emergency operation that saved his life in a massive hemorrhage in the neck.

He was as tricky as ever when he retired from medical hero service last summer. Then came word that the society had designated him as the year's top dog in research. Last week a Tulane representative in Chicago made arrangements for presentation of the award.

Whether Big Ben was stolen or ran away and perhaps was killed in traffic, no one knows.

But if he isn't found the award will be made anyway in absentia or posthumously.

Train Hits Bus in Ontario, 2 Boys Dead

ESSEX, Ontario (AP)—A New York Central passenger train running 30 minutes late sliced a school bus in half at a rural grade crossing today, killing two boys aboard the bus.

The crossing is three miles east of Essex and about 17 miles east of Detroit in the southernmost tip of the province of Ontario.

The bus was carrying 10 students in the Holy Names Parochial School in Essex.

The train hit the rear of the bus where the two boys who were killed were sitting. They were David Purvis and Paul Bossey.

The driver, Albert Slat, and three children were taken to the Essex Professional Center for treatment. Another boy, whose leg was broken, was sent to a Windsor Hospital.

Dr. D. W. Clark said none of the children brought into Essex was injured seriously.

The grade crossing is marked, but it is not protected by crossing gates. The approach is steep and icy.

A brother of young Bossey crawled to a nearby home to tell of the accident.

Dr. Collin Markland, first doctor to reach the scene, said, "It's a miracle all of them weren't killed."

Parts of the bus were knocked clear by the train. The Detroit Observer said the children who survived apparently were helped by the fact that the bus was not dragged by the train.

The train was bound from New York City to Detroit. The accident happened about 8 a. m.

A railroad spokesman said it was not determined immediately how fast the train was traveling.

Snow Hits North Arkansas, Seven Schools Closed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow closed seven schools in the Harrison Area today and colder weather was forecast for Arkansas tonight.

The outlook was for temperatures in the 13 to 15 degree range in the northwestern portion of the state tonight.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said at mid-morning "the western sections of the state should be 'through with the snow,' but forecast rain and rain mixed with snow for northeast Arkansas during the afternoon. Rain was forecast for southeast Arkansas.

The closed schools were at Harrison, Western Grove, Bergman, Valley Springs, Jasper, Alpena and Green Forest.

Schools were ordered closed in more than a score of Virginia communities. Five persons, including four children, died in fires in the Norfolk area.

Leg Snatcher Is Caught at Warren

WARREN, Ark. (AP)—A hunt for Warren's "leg snatcher" has ended, officers report.

Sheriff Roland Hayle and Police Chief Tom Dunaway said yesterday a 21-year-old Negro man has been charged with window peeping and breaking and entering in connection with the case.

He admitted trying to pull two teen-age girl through bedroom windows some three weeks ago. Hayle and Dunaway said. They added he was arrested while standing in a roadway and looking through the widow of a house.

Joyce Mann, 17, and Pat Henry, 16, were sleeping in their homes when someone seized their legs and tried to pull them through open windows. But Miss Mann screamed and scared away the intruder and Miss Henry was pulled away from the window by her mother, who was sleeping in the same bed.

Figures World Needs Albino Catfish

And Nelson has 'em.

"I am sure the orders will pour in once the word gets out," he said. "The commercial fish industry has been waiting for years for a fish like this."

Nelson developed the true-breeding albino strain from a mutation and said he already has a number of advance orders for fingerlings.

The albino first were discovered in a hatch of blue channel cat Nelson raised for a commercial hatchery in northwest Arkansas.

Nelson later decided to devote full time to producing an albino species and moved his operations to one of the state's largest fish breeding establishments near this central Arkansas town.

Nelson said the first grew from fingerlings to weights ranging from 1½ to two pounds after three months in an experimental pond.

Davey Moore Wants to Meet Champ

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Featherweight contender Davey Moore had but one objective in life today—to meet world champion Hogan (Kid) Bossey for the championship.

Moore, the No. 1 challenger, earned the title shot Thursday night with a smashing one-round knockout over Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno of Mexico in Olympia Auditorium.

Bassey was only 25 miles away at Long Beach, but did not bother to see the fight. He meets Ernesto Carga in Hollywood Stadium in a notable 10 rounder Saturday night.

"We'll be ready for Bassey and we'll knock him out," said Manager Willie Ketchum, as Davey, 21, nodded in apparent agreement.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Little Rock television station plans to broadcast all public proceedings in next week's Legislative Council probe of possible subversive influence in Arkansas.

Highway Commissioner Harry Parkin of Little Rock said today that the Legislative Council wanted "to take a slap at us, there is nothing we can do about it."

"After all," he said, "We're trying to do a job for the people. It's the people that they are actually slapping at."

Parkin said there was nothing to reports that the commission is considering F. R. Oliver, former head of the Bureau of Public Roads in Arkansas, as state highway director to replace Herbert Eldridge.

The Highway Department, and particularly Eldridge, underwent heated criticism by some legislators when the department presented its proposed budget to a recent session of the Legislative Council.

School Cuts Salaries of Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Vilonia School District in Faulkner County has cut the salaries of its superintendents and teachers.

It was disclosed yesterday.

Vilonia School Supt. Tolle H. Cooper blamed the action of the failure of the state to provide all promised aid.

But officials of the State Education Department said neither Vilonia nor any other school district had suffered cuts in state aid this year.

Arch W. Ford, education commissioner said Vilonia probably was "overbudgeted."

A district that over-budgets will find itself pressed to meet commitments just like an individual who does likewise. Ford said: "It is my opinion that we can get operating a normal term of nine months and with all districts which have done sound budget planning meeting all commitments to teachers and all their operating funds."

Cooper said that last year Vilonia was supposed to get $50,500 from the state but actually received $1,800 less. He said the shortage was more this year but he did not have the exact figures.

Education Department records show that this year Vilonia is supposed to receive $42,125 minimum foundation aid — for salaries and other purposes. It has already received $15,400 in monthly payments this year and state officials said the payments are on schedule.

Last year state aid did not meet anticipations because collections under 1957 tax increases failed to reach levels which had been forecast.

Cooper said Vilonia's salary cuts ranged from $4 to $100 a month. The cuts were effective in September and were provided under contracts for this year.

Confession of Killing May Be a Hoax

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—"I think it's all a hoax," says Alabama Gov.-elect John Patterson of a Virginia convict's confession that he killed Patterson's father during a robbery attempt in 1904.

Commenting Thursday night for the first time on the statement by Calvin W. Pruitt, 28-year-old Alabama native serving a life sentence in Virginia, Patterson said it appeared false to him. However, he plans to investigate it thoroughly.

The 37-year-old attorney general, who gained the post after the murder of his father Albert Patterson, reported two of his assistants have gone to Virginia State Penitentiary at Richmond to question Pruitt.

The elder Patterson was killed shortly after he had been nominated attorney general. He had proposed, it charged, to clean up vice-ridden Phoenix City.

In Phoenix City, meanwhile, unidentified official sources have hinted that at least a part of the murder gun, previously missing, has been found.

"They also revealed that witnesses who had declined to come forward earlier did so after the conviction of former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller on a murder charge."

Their testimony, the sources said, reinforced the state's case against Fuller, who had been charged along with former Solicitor Arch Ferrell and ex-Atty. Gen. Sid Garrett.

Fuller was given a life term. Ferrell was acquitted and Garrett never stood trial.

On the basis of the weapon and the new testimony, the officials said, they were skeptical of Pruitt's confession.

Tris Speaker Laid to Rest Near His Home

HUBBARD, Tex. (AP)—Tris Speaker rests among the cedars of the little cemetery overlooking the town from which he sprung to everlasting baseball fame.

Funeral rites for the famed major league player of the first quarter of the century were held Thursday with many from baseball here to pay their respects.

Wreaths from the American and National Leagues, Commissioner Ford Frick, the baseball Hall of Fame, big league ball clubs and the last of a great triumvirate, Fama, big league ball clubs and individuals, including Ty Cobb, the last of a great triumvirate, crowded the little chapel of Wolfe Funeral Home.

Cobb, Speaker and the late Babe Ruth have been regarded as the all-time major league outfield.

Former big league players Pete Donohue, Ted Warberry, Buster Mills, Sid Judson, Art Shires, Bobby Bragan, Ois Maerz and Dale Mitchell were among the overflow crowd that heard the Rev. William J. Flender, rector of the Hubbard Episcopal Church, deliver the funeral rites.

Also there was a wreath that held the framed picture of the Fleburne team of 1920 in the Texas League. That was where Speaker made his start in professional baseball. He was to play 22 years in the big leagues and become one of the greatest fielders and hitters in the history of the game.

Olin Kelti, 60-year-old Hubbard druggist, didn't go to the funeral services. Kelti, the man who gave Speaker his first baseball, said softly:

"I want to remember him as he was—a skinny, freckle-faced kid who played baseball in the alley and became the greatest player of all time."

Kelti recalled the day the older boys wouldn't let Tris play in a game because he was too little and inexperienced. "I'll be playing where you can't even see me some day," Tris threatened.

He died last Monday afternoon of a heart attack at the age of 70. Death came at the end of a fishing trip.

Family of Six
Burns to Death

BRANTON, Ohio (AP)—A family of six sleeping in two beds in a three-room frame house burned to death early today.

The victims were Elmer Littlejohn, 29; his wife, Betty, 25; and their four children, Gary, 7; Gail, 3; Dorothy, 3; and a 3-month-old son.

Deputy sheriffs said that an oil cooking stove probably set fire to the house.

The bodies were found either in or near the beds, indicating that the flames had spread so quickly that there had been no chance to escape. The fire broke out about 8 a.m.

Kentucky Halts SMU But Baylor Posts Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mighty Kentucky overwhelmed Southern Methodist yesterday but Baylor upheld Southern Conference intercollegiate prestige with a defensive victory over Oklahoma State.

Two Kentucky sophomores, Billy Lickert and Dick Parsons, combined for 42 points to lead Kentucky 46-24 in basketball victory over SMU at Lexington.

Baylor, a man-to-man defense and Carroll Dawson's outside shooting gave the Bears a home-court 43-37 triumph.

Lickert poured in 23 points and Parsons 19 as the unbeaten Wildcats rolled to their fourth straight success. Kentucky, the No. 2 team never trailed after the opening minute, but had to fight off the persistent Mustangs repeatedly.

Max Williams hit 12 points for SMU and Bobby James hit 19. SMU hit 42.9 per cent of its field goal shots and Kentucky only 37 per cent.

It was SMU's second loss against two victories.

Hank Dea's Cowboys managed only two field goals in the second half on 21 tries from the floor as the Bears pulled away.

The lead changed hands five times in the first half and was tied four times. But the Bears took the lead 23 to 22 with two minutes to go in the half and stretched it to 27-24 at intermission.

Dawson dropped in 20 points and was tops in rebounds with eight. Clark was high man for Oklahoma State with 19.

SWC Group to Take Up a Few Issues

DALLAS (AP) — The faculty committee, governing body of the Southwest Conference, met today to discuss a handful of recommendations offered by the coaches and athletic directors.

Early reports of a protest over officiating by four coaches at yesterday's meeting of the mentors and athletic directors apparently were unfounded.

Three of the four coaches, Frank Broyles of Arkansas, Darrell Royal of Texas and Jim Myers of Texas A&M denied such plans before the meeting. The fourth, Sam Boyd of Baylor, resigned earlier in the week.

As a matter of fact, the coaches and athletic directors recommended the officials be given more money. They urged that the officials get 20 cents a mile for the first 250 miles and 15 cents a mile thereafter, calculated on a one-way basis from their homes to the game sites. Present expense allowance is 10 cents a mile. This is in addition to a fee of $100 a game.

The names of four new men were added to the list of officials. Baylor was represented at yesterday's meeting by George Sauer, athletic director who resigned last week, and basketball coach Bill Henderson.

Howard Grubb's, executive secretary of the conference, said the meeting was routine.

THREE FACES OF LOVE

By FAITH BALDWIN

THE STORY: On a plane trip, Hope and Adam meet Dr. Emile, a brilliant man who is destined to play a great part in their lives.

Chapter X

Having entered their lives, Dr. Emile remained, woven into the fabric of their lives, appearing and then seemingly disappearing for weeks at a time, and then suddenly visible again. Shortly after his first visit, they dined with him in an old brownstone house, one big floor of which he occupied. Contrary to the general impression that scientists, medical men, teachers, and philosophers — for he was all of these — must live in a state of mild amnesia in a magnificent clutter, the high-ceilinged rooms were orderly, papers stacked, books in their places, furniture polished and dustless. The man who looked older than he seemed almost as old, but with a quick step and an erect bearing which suggested the young.

He was also like background music, harmonious, quiet, fading, and then coming forward. And there were three beautiful cats.

In the library there was a portrait of a young woman; she was on the verge of laughing and glowing against a dark tapestry, for she was very fair. The artist had endowed her with a quality of luminous happiness.

"How lovely she is," Hope said spontaneously.

And Adam added, "How young!"

Hope asked hesitating, "You have children?"

"No, Elizabeth was thrown from her horse shortly before our marriage. We were married in the hospital room, and a long time later I brought her home. Not here, she was never here."

Hope said, "I am so very sorry."

Dr. Emile shook his head. "Don't be. We had a wonderful life together."

"On the way home Hope said, 'I wonder how long she's been dead — for, of course, she is. I have a feeling she was always an invalid.'"

"Perhaps. Yes, I think so," Adam answered, watching the traffic lights. When they stopped for a red one, he put his hand over hers. "Poor guy," he said.

In the early autumn, Adam's partner, Dan, came to the house without warning. It was after dinner. Boy lay beside Hope's chair before the fire, and at the sound of the bell Adam called to Mrs. Rigg. When he opened the door he saw Dan's extraordinary altered face and heard him say, "I have to talk to you; I'm in trouble."

Adam left him and went to speak to Hope. He said, "It's Dan," and when she rose, smiling, he added, "He wants to talk to me, alone."

He nodded and went out. Boy following.

Dan, tried smiling; he was not successful. He remarked, "As they said about the woman who had a book, 'I've had a drink.' He sat down in Adam's chair and put out his hand in the warmth of the fire. Then he looked up at Adam. "I wish you'd sit down," he said.

"Okay. Now, what?"

"Other people's money."

It is strange that in the moment following three words, a man can see all he has worked for slipping from him; and worse, contemptuous glances of men.

There was not a brokerage firm; no stocks were in their keeping. He remembered, long ago, a young man who had set himself up as an investment counselor and who after a time had persuaded a number of innocent, ignorant women clients to take their certificates from the safe-deposit boxes and sign them so that he might sell and reinvest. They did quite well, too, until he vanished with a loaded brief case.

Dan said hastily, "Look, Adam, this hasn't anything to do with you, with us as a firm. This was strictly on my own."

"How?" Adam asked. He thought of the sound training, the cautious attitude, middle of the road, which had greatly influenced older clients. He thought too that by temperament Dan was far less conservative than Jim had been; less conservative than Adam himself.

Dan was explaining. He'd heard of a good thing and knew that as a member of the firm he could not advise it, being strictly an employee. But why not take the risk himself? So he took his own money and made more. This was an outside venture, through his own brokers. Then he had used his wife's money. All this had taken place over a period of time, and he'd become more reckless than Adam dreamed he could be. He reminded Adam that he had spoken several times of this or that speculative possibility which Adam had vetoed, inwardly Dan had been buoyant with success.

Two sophomores, Billy Ray Lickert and Dick Parsons, paced Kentucky over 18th-ranked SMU at Lexington. Lickert clicked for 23 points and Parsons chipped in 19 as Coach Adolph Rupp's team pulled away in the second half. Max Williams was high for the Mustangs with 21.

Xavier led all the way against Iowa. Hustling Hank Stein, the NIT Most Valuable Player, took 18 points and veteran Joe Vitale, forward, scored 17 and 16 points.

Oklahoma State, ranked 20th, moved to Baylor 43-37, being limited to just two field goals in the second half.

Oklahoma held Minnesota scoreless for a 12-minute span in the second half to turn back the Big Ten team 52-45. Wake Forest whipped a late surge to hand Florida State a 76-64 setback. Bill Lickert, Kentucky's top scorer, sparked Georgia Tech to a 79-67 triumph over Wake Forest.

Florida State Coach Is a Character

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — To make a long story short, Florida State University football coach Tom Nugent is somewhat out of character.

Nugent, whose Seminoles take on Oklahoma State University in the first annual Blue Grass Bowl football game Saturday, combines witty psychology with plain old slowmanship to get results.

For example, he has a brightly colored reservation box near the bench for players ineligible to re-enter a game.

Nugent on occasions has taken a mentally and physically beaten team to a secret meeting place supposedly for a blackboard session.

But the boys sometimes have arrived to find a complete orchestra ready to give them two hours of music. Nugent says it helps relax them.

Despite his showmanship and humor, Nugent has a solid reputation as a hard working coach.

The 7-3 record this season, the same as Oklahoma State University's indicates it.

"Sure, we use the 'I' formation and all that tricky stuff," he said. "We wouldn't use it, though, if it didn't pay off. And it did as we went Tennessee among others, as we scored 29 touchdowns . . . this season."

Ike and Dulles Talk Over Allied Unity

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles confer today on efforts to obtain solid Allied unity in the face of mounting Soviet pressures against West Berlin.

Their afternoon conference was scheduled between Dulles' discharge from the hospital and his takeoff for a series of conferences starting next week in the French capital.

Dulles has been in Walter Reed Hospital since last Friday undergoing treatment for diverticulitis, an intestinal inflammation.

His chief task at Paris so far, as the Berlin issue is concerned, apparently will be to try to resolve a split between Britain and West Germany.

The two powers differ on the kind of reply which should be made to the recent Soviet proposal to convert West Berlin into a free city and end the Western occupation there.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany has taken the position that the Berlin issue should be disposed of before any new proposals on Germany are made to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Some diplomats say that Adenauer wants the Western powers simply to reject Khrushchev's proposition without mention of other issues to be negotiated.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, however, are reported to favor instead Western counterproposals designed to open the way for negotiations with the Russians on German problems.

Adenauer is understood to feel that the British reaction is too soft.

Dulles' own attitude is reported to be that the Western powers must sternly reject the Khrushchev plan for West Berlin, but preferably at the same time put forth some kind of counterproposal based upon solving the Berlin problem through the unification of Germany with free elections.

A 4,000-word Soviet statement Thursday night gave fresh evidence that the Russians are making a play for division among the Western powers by increasing war talk. The statement was issued by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

It accused the Western powers of stalling. Any use by them of force, it said, would be met with force by the Soviet-led Warsaw Alliance.

The State Department commented that the Tass statement repeated the arguments of Khrushchev's proposal with what it called "an added note of menace."

The department added: "The United States, which has made no threats, will not be deterred by threats from defending its rights and discharging its responsibilities to the 24 million free people in West Berlin."

Emergency Loans to Eight Counties

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight Arkansas counties were designated yesterday by the Agriculture Department as areas where farmers may obtain emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

The counties are Ashley, Chicot, Columbia, Desha, Drew, Lee, Lincoln and Phillips.

The department said farmers in those counties suffered crop damage because of excessive rainfall.

French Going Out for Hoops Hoops

PARIS (AP)—About one million hoop hoops have been sold in France and orders pour in every day for some 20,000 more.

The figures were released today by a spokesman for the Plymouth plastic factory of Pezay, near Grenoble, which produces the hoop hoops in France.

About three million out of four are hoop hoops.
